

Hello Bowlers,

The 2016 Swiss National Kader will now feature a total of 34 players, including 10 players on the National Team roster and 2 youth players who are a new addition.

I am excited about the four players who have been added to the National Team selection. Two of the players have been involved in past in the National Youth Kader and 2 new youth players that have been on my radar for a while.

I would like to explain the A and B for the adult Kader. Looking back on the past year and talking to some of you I decided to split the Kader. The A group will need to follow the tournaments set out earlier this year including the ETBF stops. The B-Kader is not forced to play these, but should play other local tournaments to have the same amount of tournaments played as the rest.

The A-Kader will get a higher compensation for playing the ETBF stops. If a B-Kader player decides to play an ETBF ranking event, he/she will not be compensated.

If you have any questions or concerns throughout the New Year, please contact me first.
I am looking forward to a great season, and I am thrilled that you are going to be a part of it!

Regards,
Rick
